Robert Doisneau

by Jean Claude Gauthrand
With matters of the heart and Paris going hand-in-hand, this beautiful coffee table tome captures the most extensive collection of Doisneau photography ever in one must-have book. One of the most celebrated Parisian portrait-takers of the 1950s, it's full of fleeting moments of beautiful humour and affection. (Dhs250 Taschen at ArtSpace)

NIGHT AT THE MOVIES

For a film that's a little more 'out there' is Jupiter Ascending (Feb 6) by the makers of The Matrix trilogy, billed as a new Star Wars starring Mila Kunis (as Jupiter Jones) and Channing Tatum. Unless you've been living under a rock for the past five years, you'll be aware that the Fifty Shades of Grey (Feb 14) story has captured the hearts of females across the planet. Now the novel has its on-screen debut in a trilogy tracing the relationship between Anastasia Steele (Dakota Johnson), and a young business magnate. Christian Grey (Jamie Dornan). Maps to the Stars (Feb 27) is a Canadian-American satirical drama directed by David Cronenberg starring Julianne Moore and Robert Pattinson, concerning the plight of two former child stars.
